

Armenian National Committee of America-Western Region

Internship Program

Monday, August 2, 2010 • The Armenian National Committee of America-Western Region (ANCA-WR) is now accepting applications for the 2010 Autumn Session of its Internship Program (IP).

Why Participate in the ANCA-WR IP?

This is a selective and intensive, twelve week program that features:

- a weekly lecture series featuring community leaders, specialists, and government officials
- joint projects with fellow interns as well as an individual, session project
- an in-depth introduction to the ANCA-WR, its mission, goals, and the organization
- networking with fellow ANCA-WR activists, leadership, and friends

Participants will:

- gain confidence and pride through independent accomplishment
- expand communication and presentation skills
- exercise management and teamwork skills
- make connections with individuals in government affairs, public service, and public relations
- increase their knowledge of the political arena and advocacy techniques

PROGRAM COMPONENTS

Internship Specializations and Session Projects

The ANCA-WR has over a dozen work area group specializations. Participants will be assigned to two areas of specialization. See the next page for a complete listing of work area groups to which interns may be assigned.

As interns within these areas of specialization, they will be assigned short-term and long-term projects to be completed during the course of the session. The ANCA-WR IP Coordinator works with program participants to provide regular oversight and feedback regarding project progress.

Lecture Series, Workshops, Media Review Seminars, and Special Events

Every week the ANCA-WR IP participants will attend a lecture series or workshop, partake in a media review seminar, or take part in a special event throughout the course of the program.

The lecture series is designed to introduce participants to the ANCA-WR and the environment in which it operates its accomplishments, and educate them on issues of concern to the community.

The workshops are designed to teach participants practical, general professional skills.

The media review seminar is designed to provide an interactive environment in which they may explore issues covered in the press and analyze the impact on issues advocated by the ANCA-WR (i.e. understanding Armenian American issues in the broader scope of the world stage).

During the course of the session, the ANCA-WR IP participants will have the opportunity to partake in various special events and programs ranging from attending conferences and ANCA-WR events to visiting media offices and joining ANCA-WR staff for meetings with public officials.

Weekly Meetings and Blogging

Each week the IEP coordinator will meet with the interns and externs to discuss the progress on their individual and group projects as well as goals for each in the coming week. Additionally, ANCA-WR IP participants will blog regularly about their experience in the program as well as Armenian American advocacy issues.

Final Presentation and Closing Reception

Each program participant will summarize his/her experience in the program by preparing a presentation regarding his/her projects and accomplishments as an ANCA-WR IP participant. The closing reception is attended by the ANCA-WR Board of Directors and staff, former interns, and the local ANCA-WR chapter leadership.
